Monster poem

Farmster is his name. He is one of the oddest but nicest around. On a warm summer day Farmster will roll in a mud puddle like a pig. His favorite meal is lunch. Because that's when he gets to have a bale of hay with two water buckets that are 10 feet tall. With one 9 foot glass of his very own milk. Farmsters body is a horse body. He has goat horns for hair. A pigtail for a tail. Cow udders for armpits. A sheep legs for his own. And a farmers head for a head. He is 2 miles tall and 1 ½ miles long. And horse legs for his arms.
